Reading II - A Poster, a Protest, and a Limit

Use this reading for questions 1 to 2.

A group of students planned a peaceful protest outside city hall and made posters criticising a new city bylaw. The city said the protest could go ahead in a nearby park, but not block the main road into the hospital.

One student said the move violated freedom of expression. Another said every right has limits when public safety is at stake. Their teacher said the Charter protects expression, but courts can uphold limits that are reasonable and justified, and the students should look at the reasons the city gave.

1 The main idea of Reading II is that a Charter freedom such as expression can be limited when a limit is

- A reasonable and justified, as with public safety
- B imposed for no reason at all
- C decided by one student alone
- D applied only to posters
