Reading I - A Berlin Letter, 1919

Use this reading for questions 1, 9, and 25.

Our city is quiet now, but the quiet is angry. The treaty signed at Versailles blames us alone for the war, takes land from us, cuts our army to a small force, and demands payments we cannot afford.

Men in the cafes say the treaty is not peace but punishment. I fear this anger will not fade. A settlement that humiliates a whole people may plant the seeds of another war.

- A Berlin resident, in an invented letter, 1919

1 According to Reading I, the Berlin letter writer feared the treaty would

- A make Germany richer
