Reading II - A Name Returned

Use this reading for questions 1 to 2.

At a community gathering, an elder spoke a place name in the local language and explained what it means: the place where the river bends and the fish gather. The young people repeated the name, and the elder smiled.

Later, a teacher explained that many place names in BC come from First Nations languages, and that learning them is one way to learn the history of a place. The students made a map of their town with both the familiar names and the older names beside them.
